Return From Acapulco Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson are shown above when they landed on Sunday at Dullus Air Port after spending a ten-day vacation in Acapulco, Mexico.

Included in the many interesting places they saw and things they did was watching the high-cliff diving from the top of cliffs in Acapulco.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson returned to Appomattox on Monday.

Studded Tire Use Illegal April 1

Richmond, Va. — Use of studded tires will be illegal in Virginia from April 1, to November 1, Colonel H. W. Burgess, Superintendent of State Police, warned today.

He said that formerly the permissive dates for studded tires were from October 15 to April 15 but that the 1972 General Assembly changed these dates to November 1 and April 1.

Colonel Burgess continued in saying that there is concern among highway engineers as to whether these tires damage road surfaces to the extent that the safety potential is outweighed and that the Highway Department is conducting a continuing study on the matter.

The 1968 General Assembly enacted a law permitting studded tires between October 15 and April 15 and this law was extended by the 1970 Assemble as it was orginially enacted.

Mr. Parrish, a 1971 graduate of Central of Lunesburg High School is employed by Virginia Department of Highways, Kenbridge.

The wedding is planned June 30, at Spring Baptist Church, Darvill Heights, Virginia.

Entertaining Continues For Miss Wilson

Miss Jane Beverly Wilson was entertained with a luncheon on Saturday, March 24, in Bon Air, Virginia, at Willow Oaks Country Club.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. John E. Haas, Mrs. Morris F. Haas, both of Richmond and Mrs. Clarence B. Morris, Jr., of Bon Air, Virginia, aunts of the bride-elect.

Attending the luncheon were Mrs. John Hannon Wilson, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Walter Clyde Wilkers o n, mother of the bridegroom; relatives; and Miss Pat Cheatham of Lynchburg; and Mrs. James B. Wright, Jr. of Newport News, attendants in the forthcoming wedding.

The bride-elect was presented gifts from the hostesses.

John Bath Boutique in Lynchburg on March 19th was given by Mrs. Shirley Tanner and Mrs. Dixie Staten.

The sick members were remembered by cards.

The Homemakers Creed was repeated.

Mrs. Shirley Tanner presented an interesting demonstration entitled "Fancy Sandwiches" after which members gathered around the dining room table and were served the sandwiches Mrs. Tanner made. The hostess also served ice cream and cookies which everyone enjoyed.

The April meeting will meet in the home of Mrs. Nina Caldwell on April 17th at 1:30 p.m.

"Pruning and Trimming Bushes and Shrubs" will be the topic for the demonstration.

OUR AIM---- MAY 18, 1899.

is to give you better Clothing for less money than elsewhere, with ca acrificing a single detail to accomplish it.

OUR CLOTHING

is the leading product of the clothing industry of America, because it is the best Tailored Ready-to-Wear Clothing made.

S. H. FRANKLIN,

921 Main Street, Lynchburg, Va.

C. E. Manner has charge of our Tailoring Department

When this ad was published in the paper on May 18, 1899, the S. H. Franklin Company had been in business for ten years, and had been organized eight years before it was purchased by Mr. Franklin. This marks the ninety second year of operation for this well known establishment, located in central Lynchburg.

Today as in 1899 their aim, first and foremost has been to provide their customers with the best men's apparel at as reasonable prices as possible. Fair and square treatment to ALL customers, with courteous attention to each, has continued to be their Creed.

In October 1889 when S. H. Franklin went into this business it was not the policy of such establishments to put a price on the wearing apparel, consequently, customers had to haggle over the price of each item of clothing they wanted to buy. For an example, a salesman would mention a price for shoes, hat, shirt ., suit or top-coat, then the customer would make a counter offer, always followed by the customary haggle - haggle. How they arrived at the selling price has yet to be decided.

Mr. Franklin turned aside from this direction and immediately stocked his store with the best clothing available and attached to each garment a fair, just and reasonable price. All customers bought at the same price, regardless of race, color or creed. With his one price to all, and courteous service to each and all Mr. Franklin continued his new policy while old-timers 's prediction was for, total failure within six months. Thus, the haggle-haggle system was replaced by the fair-price system. The credit for this system was given to The Great Merchant Prince, John Wanamaker of Philadelphia in 1893, four years after Mr. Franklin instigated and established the practice.

TODAY THE AIM OF THE S. H. FRANKLIN COMPANY IS TO PROVIDE THE BEST MEN'S APPAREL AT FAIR AND REASONABLE PRICES – PLUS – COURTEOUS, CONSIDERATE SERVICE TO EACH AND EVERY CUSTOMER ENTERING THEIR DOOR AT 921 MAIN STREET IN DOWNTOWN LYNCHBURG, CENTRAL VIRGINIA.

Don't Use Set-Aside Land Before Notifying ASCS Office

Producers who decide to graze or hay their set-aside land under the 1973 feed grain or wheat programs are cautioned that official notification must first be given to their Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) county office.

"It's very important to a producer that he give notice before using his set-aside land for haying or grazing, or allowing it to be used by another producer," said James R. Ford, Jr., Chairman of the Appomattox county ASC committee. He stands to lose all of his program payment if he doesn't go on record at the ASCS county office before his farm's set-aside acreage is grazed, hayed, or cut for silage or green chop."

Producers with land in the Cropland Adjustment Program (CAP), a long-term land retirement program, also must notify the ASCS office before using CAP land for livestock grazing or haying.

When set-aside or CAP acreage is used for livestock, the producer accepts a reduction equal to 30 percent of the calculated payment under the basic feed grain program. The 30 percent reduction applies regardless of the length of time the acreage is grazed or hayed. It applies to wheat program set-aside as well as feed grain set-aside.

If land set aside under the wheat program is grazed or hayed, the 30 percent reduction will be based on what the feed grain payment would be.

"ASCS office personnel will be happy to explain the details of the regulations," Mr. Ford said, "but it's vital that producers remember to notify the ASCS county office before turning livestock on to setaside or CAP acreage or cutting it for hay, silage or green-chop."
